The Customer is advised to take this into account, to order in good time and allow extra time for deliveries.
- 7.3 The Seller shall be entitled without notice to the Customer to vary the amount of the Product delivered by an operational tolerance up to ten per cent (10%). Unless otherwise agreed, any quantity received by the Customer within the operational tolerance will be priced at the prevailing market price set by the Seller.
- 7.4 If the Seller fails to deliver the Product, subject always to Condition 14 and any other applicable limitations and exclusions, its liability shall be limited to the costs and expenses incurred by the Customer in obtaining replacement products of a similar description and quality in the cheapest market, less the price of the Product. The Seller shall not be liable for any delay in delivery of Product that is caused by a Force Majeure Event, the Customer's failure to provide the Seller with adequate delivery instructions or the delivery facilities set out in Condition 8 or the suspension or cancellation of deliveries in accordance with Condition 5.3.3 or 16.1.
- 7.5 If no one is available at the Premises to take delivery, the Seller will deliver Product where it is possible for the Seller to access the Storage and the Customer agrees that the Seller shall be entitled to access the Premises for this purpose.

The Customer must raise any concerns as to the obligations referred to above with the health and safety department at the relevant local council who should provide further information. If the Seller believes that it would be unsafe to make a delivery of Product to the Customer then it may suspend the relevant delivery unless or until it is satisfied (acting reasonably) that it would be safe for it to proceed.

- 10.3 Until such time as title to the Product transfers to the Customer, the Customer shall:
- 10.3.1 store the Product in accordance with Good Industry Practice; and

The Customer shall further provide the Seller with detailed documentary evidence in support of its Claim within twenty-one (21) days after the date of Delivery. If the Customer fails to notify the Seller of any claim in accordance with these provisions, the Customer shall have no further liability for any claims whatsoever arising out of or in connection with the Product and any such claim shall be waived and forever barred..

12.2 Where any claim is made in accordance with the above provisions, the Customer shall procure access for the Seller to enter the premises at which the Product is stored during business hours to take samples and/or carry out any other investigations which the Seller considers necessary; and the Seller shall not commingle or allow the Product to be commingled with any other product or substance unless expressly agreed otherwise between the parties.
